PREFACE

The purpose of this bulletin is to bring together pertinent data in regard to business activity in the State of Illinois from 1937 to 1942. While these data are not intended to give a complete economic picture of the State, they do provide sufficient coverage to give a general view of the business of the State. The year 1942, the latest for which data are shown, was prior to the time when the full impact of the world at war began to show up in business data.

We are unable as yet to present an index of Illinois business activity. However, we are presenting 8 indexes of business activity of the State on the same scale and with the same base. The petroleum industry of the State, which is a relatively new one, is presented on the same base but could not be presented on the same scale. The sources of these data are standard governmental and other publications.

This bulletin is presented in the belief that it fills a need in bringing together important economic data of the State of Illinois. The data are presented in such form as to be useful to businessmen, educators, public officials, commercial organizations, and others who may be interested in economic information about the State. It is the plan of this Bureau to keep all economic data up to date and to issue supplementary releases at regular intervals.

The Bureau wishes to acknowledge the helpful cooperation afforded by various departments of the State government. Especial acknowledgment is made to Miss Florence L. White, the statistician in the Bureau of Economic and Business Research, who has done practically all the laborious work of preparing the bulletin. The care and accuracy of her work is exemplary. Other members of the Bureau staff and of the Department of Economics have contributed unsparingly of their time and talent.
